MICROMONSTER

Strategy meets Fantasy

the legend

In several millenniums many huge empires emerged, cultures flourished and many of them turned to dust again. Only one thing seemed resistant and common to all. The urge to face heavy battles in the arena and finally become one of the best.

Hardly one who did not spend a major part of his life in the arena. Hardly one who had not been tempted by the fame. The rulers of all worlds are elected by their heavy struggle in regular cycles.

And this is where your path begins....

Let us be not blinded by the illusion of uniting the universe, since even the not-to-be-spoken-of failed; and their power exceeds our imagination.
- Premier Kadak to the Council of Five
